What tasks can we handle?

We'll do it all, or you can mix and match from the following to meet your needs:

Invoices

Handling your invoices from start to finish, we'll contact customers to find out what they need to pay, generate invoices accordingly, mail them, match them to back-ups for accuracy.

Credit

To ensure you only deal with creditworthy customers, we'll run credit reports on new and existing customers and update credit searches on a periodic basis. We can also perform an expert analysis and recommend a credit limit for each customer.

Collections (You know, that part you hate to do yourself.)

We'll make your collections calls, send out past due notices, send out monthly statements, and apply all collections so you don't have to wait for money you are owed.

Reporting

Quickly know exactly where you stand with comprehensive reports covering every aspect of your accounts receivables.

Analysis

When there's a problem, we'll find the answer. We can analyze your aging to see which customers are paying slowly, with dilution or not at all. Then we can determine the cause and help you make the needed corrections.
